Fred says a love of dancing helped him reach his 100th

PENSIONER Fred Holgate believes dancing is the secret to a long and happy life – and he should know.

For Fred, pictured left, who celebrated his 100th birthday last Wednesday, danced regularly until a couple of years ago when health problems forced him to stop.

He even met Renee, his wife of 70 years, while at a dance hall in London during the war.

Renee (90) said: "We have always loved to dance. We've had some wonderful times and have made so many friends along the way."

"We have had a very happy life through our dancing and have been very lucky to have been able to go on for so long."

Born in Edmonton in 1911, Fred married Renee in Tottenham in 1940. They moved to Harlow in 1953 to escape the city and to allow Fred to pursue a career in the building trade.

Fred celebrated his century with family and friends at a party held at the sheltered housing complex in Harlow where the couple live.

He enjoyed himself so much that he did not even mind not getting any presents!

"When I asked him what he wanted for his birthday he said what does a 100-year-old man need?" said Renee. "He said he already had everything he wanted and he is very happy, but of course if he thinks of anything I'll get it for him!"

Firefighter home from quake zone

DEVASTATION: The scene that greeted rescuers after the earthquake struck (s)

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A HARLOW firefighter has spoken of his experiences after returning from a search-and-rescue mission to the earthquake-hit city of Christchurch.

Gary Wootton (51), of Spring Hills, was one of six Essex firefighters who were flown to the disaster zone on New Zealand's South Island as members of the UK's International Search & Rescue team.

Flying out less than 48 hours after the quake hit on February 21, the team set up camp in parkland in the heart of Christchurch's devastated city centre.

"Things didn't look too bad on the outskirts of the city but as soon as we reached the centre it became clear just how devastating the earthquake had been," Mr Wootton told the Star.

"Large buildings and office blocks had been reduced to rubble and what had once been a bustling city centre was eerily quiet and completely empty."

The team initially surveyed sites throughout the city before being assigned to search the collapsed four-storey Pyne Gould Corporation building in the heart of the city's once-thriving business district.

"We had been told there were live casualties that needed to be found so we set to work immediately, systematically searching through the rubble in shifts so we could work round-the-clock."

"Because we were there so soon after the original earthquake we also had to contend with the aftershocks. The building had moved about a foot-and-a-half by the time we left."

As days passed with no sign of survivors, the team's focus shifted to finding the bodies of people known to have been inside the building when the earthquake struck. By the time the search was called off, 13 corpses had been recovered from the rubble.

"We used heavy plant machinery to completely dismantle the building in our search. It was physically and emotionally demanding work, but we knew that finding the bodies of the missing would bring some closure to their grieving families," he said.

Mr Wootton, who also joined international rescue efforts in the aftermath of the Sumatran earthquake in 2009, added: "It's an incredibly sobering, humbling experience and I was amazed at the way the Christchurch community pulled together to help with the search and rescue efforts."

"It really makes you realise just how fortunate we are in the UK to remain unaffected by natural disasters of such magnitude."

Tory achievements make Labour words look cheap

SIR, The letters pages in the Star over the past couple of weeks has carried Labour criticism of the Conservatives' council budget, but the cheap rhetoric appears to have got in the way of the facts.

When the Conservatives took control of the council in 2008 they inherited a £1.8m black hole from Labour. Sound familiar?

Since then the Conservatives have successfully addressed that deficit, replenished some of the funds Labour raided, balanced two budgets in record time and have now accommodated a large cut in its funds while at the same time managing to freeze council tax for two years running.

All this has been done while keeping frontline services going and maintaining most of Harlow's best-loved discretionary services.

I am sure the residents of Harlow appreciate the time and effort Conservative councillors have put in to achieve this. Labour councillors couldn't even be bothered to submit their own budget, the first time this has happened in the history of the council.

Our china is the best

SIR, With reference to Kyle Plumridge's letter in the Star about the forthcoming Royal wedding ("One-sided approach ignores views of town's republicans", March 3), I am adding my opinion to one aspect of the event.

Earlier this year I wrote to our MP telling him how angry I was to learn that at the wedding reception the china that has been bought for the occasion is being made in China and not in this country.

The UK produces the most exquisite, beautiful china in the world. To be made especially for the wedding of Prince William and Kate Middleton would give a tremendous boost for the people working in this industry and perhaps raise awareness that we can produce some of the best china ever made.

At this time of high unemployment the Royal couple should be aware that goods made here would give work to our people. I did state to our MP that perhaps our home-made china would be more expensive, but maybe the young couple could pay the balance. I also asked him to take this matter further.

It would have been rather polite for him to have replied to my letter with some explanations for me. When Bill Rammell was our MP I wrote many letters to him – not always pleasant – but I always received a reply.

Republicans in minority

SIR, Kyle Plumridge is entitled to his view of the monarchy. By his own admission, 80-85 per cent of the population don't share it.

Do as you wish on April 29, Mr Plumridge, but don't expect the majority to do the same.

Footpath a muddy track

SIR, Has anyone seen the state of the public footpath that has been laid from the bus stop in front of the new leisure centre through to Greenhills?

Car park restrictions will prevent our enjoyment of nature's beauty

WINNER

SIR, I am writing to express my concern and dismay at the way in which the council is proposing to deny many of us free access to one of our most beautiful and well-used amenities ("Private parking protest", February 24).

Yes, I am saying denying access as some of us elderly people will be denied a much-loved area for level walking. It is the only place left to us for exercising our dogs where they have no escape route onto busy roads and are free to run as dogs need to do. It is also a place where we are able to meet up with like-minded people.

Many of us have arthritis and other disabilities and this area of parkland gives us the opportunity to walk at our own pace, enjoy nature and keep out of our GPs' surgeries by maintaining our limited fitness.

I need to use my car nowadays as I no longer have the stamina or ability for uphill or lengthy walking. I take my boisterous young dog, in my car, to the River Stort several times a week for a run to keep him fit – as well as myself. The bus service does not serve this parking place and I doubt that wet, muddy dogs would be welcomed on board!

The car park at The Moorhen will be busy in the coming months and I wonder if the owner/tenants there will be pleased to have their customers' parking places taken up with dog owners and walkers who will not be using their facilities. Younger people and those wanting to use the pub will be fit enough to stroll down the hill and back up the hill but probably will wish to use their cars anyway!

I have lived in Harlow since 1962 and have watched as new buildings and other facilities have encroached on the open land planned by Sir Frederick Gibberd. Understandably much of this was a necessary evil but I do not see this new plan to hijack the small parking area left to persons like myself as a necessary act.

When my children and their friends were small we took them to enjoy the open

Letter of the Week

The Star has teamed up with Sheaffer, the prestige pen maker, to offer our correspondents the chance to win a stylish Sheaffer 300 worth almost £30. The writer of the Letter of the Week, as chosen by the editor, will win this quality Sheaffer roller ball pen. For more information go to www.sheaffer.com.

country area. Since then my grandchildren have used the water meadows and river walks to enjoy the blossom and flowers in their seasons, as well as the animal and bird life.

I would like to ask if you have ever walked the towpath and open fields yourself? Have you seen the cormorant dive from one of the trees to emerge with a fish in his beak? Have you savoured the smell of the apple blossom in spring or tried to identify the various wildflowers adorning the banks?

We have children now who are content to sit with their Xbox, who have never seen these growing and maybe never will unless they are shown them while they are young. It may be up to us old-uns to do this. Please ensure that we can still enjoy these sights and re-think your plans for shutting us out.

Commuters, and residents, of Harlow already pay parking costs to visit a GP, the hospital and shops. Can you provide a valid reason why office workers cannot use the newly built multi-storey parking places? Can they not use the bus service to and from the town station as many other people do? Will they be happy to struggle to their offices from the proposed car park through the thick muddy pathway/track in the rain? Or will the council be spending more money on providing a paved walkway for these people?

Please think again and consider the needs of the residents of Harlow before you put up the barricade to the enjoyment of a great many people.

Our first class hospital

SIR, I went into Princess Alexandra Hospital in January for a knee replacement operation.

I was in Tye Green Ward and cannot speak highly enough of the treatment I received from the surgeons down to the ward assistants. Everyone was so caring and so pleasant, always with a smile.

The meals were always very good with a nice selection and well presented and there were always cleaners around. If all the wards are as good as this one it's a first class hospital.

After I came home from hospital I was visited by PCT nurses three times a week for five weeks. They were all very caring and pleasant and I think this is a very important part of the recovery.

So to all concerned a very big thank you.

SIR, On behalf of all those who would be affected by the proposals to introduce parking restrictions at the small car park on the River Stort opposite The Moorhen – anglers, dog walkers, strollers, disabled and the infirm – I would like to thank everybody who has contacted me via e-mail, telephone, in conversation and by letter to support us.

By the interest that has been generated I think Harlow Council may have a fight on its hands. Well done everybody and thanks once again.

Thug set his dogs on robbery victim

PATRICK BRYANT

MARIO GEORGE

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

TWO thugs were this week starting prison sentences for an unprovoked attack on a young man as he walked along a Harlow cycle track.

Mario George (19), of Pear Tree Mead, Harlow, and Patrick Bryant (20), of Linford End, Harlow, punched the 20-year-old victim in the face before setting two dogs on him and stealing his mobile phone and a pair of trainers.

A jury at Chelmsford Crown Court was told Luke Burd was on his way to meet a friend on August 19 last year when the pair attacked him in Third Avenue, knocking him to the ground.

Prosecutor John Livingstone told the court the defendants had seen Mr Burd talking on his phone while walking towards an underpass near the Passmores School playing fields.

"George had three dogs with him – none were on a lead – and the victim was confronted by Bryant who searched him. He then punched Mr Burd and grabbed hold of his phone, which was worth £135, telling him 'You're being robbed'."

Bryant then aimed a punch at Mr Burd which connected with his jaw, knocking him sideways into a bushy area.

"The dogs went over to him, grabbing his legs and arms until George tried to call them off," said Mr Livingstone.

George claimed the victim had "swung a punch" at Bryant before a scuffle broke out, while Bryant said the dogs "thought it was a game".

George and Bryant were both found guilty of robbery, while George was also convicted on two counts of having dogs dangerously out of control in a public place. He was sentenced to two years imprisonment and banned from owning a dog for 10 years.

Bryant was jailed for two-and-a-half years.

Charity boxing night is a big hit

FORMER world heavyweight champion Frank Bruno was among more than 200 people who supported a charity boxing night.

Monday's event at the Manor of Groves Hotel and Country Club in High Wych saw more than £10,000 raised for the Harlow-based Presidents' Sporting Club and Essex Disabled Sports Foundation.

The charity, of which Frank is president, provides sporting facilities, equipment and opportunities for disabled children in Essex.

Also present at Monday's event were former boxers Charlie Magri and Dave 'Boy' Green.

Mike Jackson, chairman of the President's Sporting Club, said: "I am delighted with how it went and very pleased with what we raised in a challenging economic climate."

Passing sentence, judge Charles Gratwicke warned Bryant he could spend the rest of his life in prison if he didn't change his ways.

And turning his attention to George, the judge added: "If you're not careful you'll go down the same road."

"You're still 19. I accept it wasn't you who punched the victim in the face but you were there and willing to lend a hand."

Speaking after the case, Detective Constable Sam Culf of the Harlow Serious Crime Team said: "This was a completely unprovoked and vicious assault which took place in broad daylight."

"The victim was on his way into town to meet a friend and was chatting on his mobile phone when he was attacked by Bryant and George. George then set his dogs on the victim."

Fair to provide careers advice

HARLOW College will host a careers fair offering free guidance on jobs and training opportunities for local youngsters next week.

The event, co-organised by Harlow schools and the college itself, will play host to over 30 exhibitors offering advice on post-16 vocational courses and potential career opportunities.

The event takes place on Thursday (March 17) from 4-7pm. Pupils wanting to attend should ask their school tutors for passes.

Rape accused to face 10-day trial

A MAN accused of raping a woman three times is facing a 10-day trial later this year.

Donald Colella (20), of Canons Gate, Harlow, was remanded on conditional bail until September 6 after pleading not guilty to the charges when he appeared at Chelmsford Crown Court on Tuesday.

He was ordered to live at an address in Clacton, not to go to on-licence premises, to comply with a 10pm-6am curfew and report to Clacton Police three times a week.

The offences are alleged to have been committed in a wooded area off Cherry Tree Lane on December 5 last year.

Working together for Harlow

A HARLOW woman is sleeping soundly after winning a dream bedroom makeover on national television.

After years of being unhappy with her bedroom décor, Anne Small entered the ITV1 This Morning competition and told them why she felt she deserved to win her dream bedroom.

She was amazed when she got a call from the show producers telling her she was one of six viewers who had won a bedroom makeover by top interior designer Danielle Proud.

Anne (61), of Penshurst, Old Harlow, said: "My bedroom was designed and fitted when we moved into the house about 10 years ago.

"I was very pleased with it at the time until quite shortly afterwards when I visited an old friend of my parents in a care home. To my horror, she had my bedroom with the same wallpaper and bedding! I could never walk into the room again without being reminded.

"I was absolutely thrilled when I found out that I had won my dream bedroom. For years I had dreamt of something more glamorous, contemporary and modern, and was so happy to finally be getting it."

Designer Danielle, who co-presents TV series House Gift with Laurence Llewellyn-Bowen, and the ITV Dream Bedroom Team came to Old Harlow two weeks ago, sending Anne and her husband, John (61), away for two days while they got to work.

The couple were then invited back on the evening of the second day to view the finished room.

"The word 'wow' does not adequately describe the way it looked," said Anne. "We both genuinely feel that it is absolutely stunning and is just what I had dreamed of and more!"

She added: "I would like to thank Anne-Marie and Stephen Taylor of The Gables restaurant in Old Harlow who allowed the camera crew to interview Danielle in a lovely setting away from all the chaos back at the house. Also Ray Hall Carpets of Old Harlow for doing the carpet fitting so expertly amid the chaos of the makeover."

The bedroom makeover is being broadcast on This Morning tomorrow (Friday).

Census vital to future funding of services

COUNCIL chiefs are urging residents to complete their national census forms or risk the town losing millions of pounds of funding for their public services over the next decade.

With Harlow Council already reeling from swingeing Government grant cuts, the authority has warned that a poor response rate to the nationwide survey could result in further funding reductions.

Information gained from the census is used to determine the amount of money allocated to the council, the police, the fire service and the NHS.

Harlow Council leader Andrew Johnson said: "In 2001 95 per cent of households in Harlow returned their census form and this helped to protect the money we get from central government for local service.

"We need to beat this number this year, with ideally every household completing their form."

Households failing to fill out the form can face fines of up to £1,000. Forms were sent out at the beginning of this week but the census can also be completed online.

Court agrees to closure of 'sex den' flat

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertssexnews.co.uk

A FLAT in Harlow being used as a brothel has been boarded up after magistrates issued a closure order.

As reported exclusively in last week's Star, a team of UK Border Agency officers and police raided the property in The Hoo last Wednesday afternoon.

Evidence gathered at the scene was used to apply for a brothel closure order at Witham Magistrates Court the following day.

The legislation, which only came into effect last April, denies entry to properties suspected to be brothels to anyone other than the leaseholder for three months, with the power to extend the order for a total of six months if necessary.

Leaseholder access is only granted by prior arrangement with the UK Border Agency or the police.

Adam Rogers, from the UK Border Agency's immigration crime team, said: "We know the negative impact establishments like this have on the communities around them and are committed to shutting them down.

"These new closure order powers allow us to close brothels and to keep them closed, providing local people with a lasting solution to the problem."

During last week's raid a German woman was arrested on suspicion of managing a brothel. She has since been released on bail pending further enquiries.

A second woman was also

OFF LIMITS: Above, the door of the flat has been boarded up and signs warn callers that a court order prevents entry to the premises. Right, how the Star reported the raid in last week's paper found at the premises. Immigration checks revealed her to be a 54-year-old from China who had overstayed her visa.

She has been released on immigration bail while arrangements are made for her removal from the country.

The brothel had been advertised in a local newspaper and on the internet under the name Sweet Lady Massage.

much that these kids can participate in so why take that away from them?"

Harlow Council's own website describes the service – which has been running for over 20 years – as "very popular" and warns that places in some of the clubs on offer are limited due to the high demand.

But this week council leader

Andrew Johnson told the Star that a "tough" budget meant services offered at the centre had to be cut back.

"Residents will be aware that we had to make some very tough budget choices due to the Government's spending reductions," he said.

"Although Sam's Place is a discretionary service, the council recognises that families value it and for that reason we are keeping a number of activities going at the centre.

"I sympathise that families will be concerned by the loss of the youth club but we have got to spend our money where it is most needed.

"The young people who use the youth club will be able to attend both the Saturday club in term times and playschemes, and we will also work with families to find other service provision for their needs such as Scout groups and youth facilities."

The curtain rises on theatre dream

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

IT was back in April 1969 that plans to build a theatre in Harlow town centre finally got the go-ahead – a staggering 13 years after the idea was first mooted.

Harlow Urban District Council chairman Derek Score sealed the deal by signing the £327,987 contract under the watchful eyes of clerk D. F. Bull.

The Playhouse project was the largest single expenditure ever undertaken by the council and represented years of patience and hard work by the Harlow Theatre Working Party, a group set up by local theatregoers and performers in 1957 following initial discussions for a dedicated performing arts venue in the town.

With many different music and drama groups already in the area, they campaigned for a venue from which all clubs could benefit.

Little did they realise it would take another 13 years before their dream became a reality, but eventually plans for the theatre were passed, and an agreement between a number of bodies – including Harlow Development Corporation, the Arts Council, the British Film Institute and Essex County Council – secured the necessary funding.

At the time of signing, Councillor Score said: "I am glad the scheme has reached this point during my year of office. It has been a long time and has meant a lot of hard work by a lot of people."

The Playhouse eventually opened on November 1, 1971 with a glittering gala show starring a certain young Scottish entertainer named Lulu. This year will be its 40th birthday.

Do you remember when the Playhouse finally got the go-ahead? Were you part of the Theatre Working Party behind the 13-year campaign? Send us your memories by emailing vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk or write to Nostalgia, Harlow Star, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW.

NOSTALGIA UPDATE: Carole Ann Ford

When Nostalgia printed an old newspaper cutting of film and TV actress Carole Ann Ford signing autographs at the 1962 Harlow Day last week, one reader quickly spotted a familiar face in the crowd.

David Tweedie (59), originally from Potter Street, was amazed to see himself wearing a white shirt and standing at the front of the queue.

David was just 10 years old at the time and said he

Actress Carole in demand for an autograph doesn't remember much of the event. But he still has Carole's autograph safely stored away.

"I cannot remember if Carole Ann Ford said anything to me but I do remember she was in Dr Who," he said. "In my autograph book I have written 'Susan in Dr Who'."

David recalls Harlow Day as being renowned for its celebrity guests.

"It was a big day for the town and often big stars would appear," he said. "I vaguely remember a previous Harlow Day when Tommy Cooper appeared as the Pied Piper and all the kids had to follow him."

DO YOU REMEMBER?

WITH the advantage of age and height on their side, it should have been a no-brainer for anyone predicting the outcome of a football match between United Glass Ladies and the Netteswell Rangers under-13 boys in 1972.

Yet the youngsters fought commendably against the women's team to win a famous victory. Fortunately it seems from the photo sent in by Mary Donovan, of Southern Lodge, that everyone was still in good spirits after the game!

Mary (79), whose son Terry – then about 12 years old – is the third from the left in the front row, said he remembers the game as being "nearly equal".

Do you remember the match between the United Glass Ladies and Netteswell Rangers under-13 team? If you do, email vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

25 years ago Celebrity tubes

Swimming champions Sharron Davies and David Wilkie will give Harlow's eagerly awaited aquatubes their official christening on Saturday. The swimming stars will spend time chatting to the 69 lucky sliders, who were drawn out of a hat by the pool, before going down themselves, breaking through paper hoops at the bottom.

Smoke free zone

Princess Alexandra Hospital will impose a permanent smoking ban from Wednesday as part of its contribution to National No-Smoking Day. Only expectant fathers and bereaved relatives will not be affected by the ban, which was decided after new research showed that one in seven people in West Essex die from smoking-related illnesses.

Parents' fury

Parents and governors from William Martin School are furious at a decision to take away their lollipop lady. Police decided the service was no longer needed after a survey found that traffic in the area was 75 per cent below what was required for a crossing patrol. It is feared that children will endanger themselves by crossing busier sections of the road on their own.

Drinks appeal

The Square has won its appeal for a full drinks licence after Chelmsford Crown Court overturned a decision made by Harlow magistrates last October. Venue manager Jonathan Crispin said the main reason for the change was to remove a condition on the existing licence that new members had to wait 48 hours after joining before being able to get a drink.

Can you help?

THE Nostalgia desk has received a request from a volunteer at The Museum of Harlow for any information or photos regarding the history of the Faircroft, Westview and Little Bays buildings in Station Road, Old Harlow. If you can help, send an email to vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk or write to Nostalgia, Harlow Star, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW.

Hit TV show sparks web interest in Harlow

THE success of cult television series The Only Way Is Essex has made Harlow an internet hit, according to a survey by an online travel firm.

Hotels.com claims the number of customers searching its site for hotels in the Harlow area rocketed by 59 per cent in January compared to the same period last year.

The company claims the sudden interest is being driven by the ITV2 show which follows the lives of Essex club promoter Mark Wright and his friends.

The survey found even sharper spikes in search enquiries for hotels in Brentwood, Basildon and Chigwell – all prominent locations in the show.

It also suggests that a wave of Essex-linked celebrities – including Brit Award winner Jessie J, X-Factor singer Matt Cardle and Dancing On Ice contestant and Harlow resident Jeff Brazier – have all helped keep the county in the media spotlight.

Joel Charles, chairman of Harlow Council's community and citizenship policy working group, welcomed the survey's findings but said Harlow had much more to offer than fake tans and hair extensions.

"I'm delighted that people want to visit Harlow where they can discover our world class sculpture collection, visit the state-of-the-art leisure centre, explore the beautiful Stort Valley, visit the artists at Parndon Mill Gallery and end the day at the renowned Harlow Playhouse, he said.

"The Only Way Is Essex is a fun show but it can run the risk of promoting an image of Essex that just doesn't match the reality. The county is home to beautiful countryside, stunning coastlines and vibrant towns."

Violent ending to couple's night out

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsexnews.co.uk

A NIGHT out at a fancy dress party turned sour for a Harlow couple when it ended in violence, a court was told.

Mother-of-two Jolene Mace was taken to hospital after her partner Jamie Thomas assaulted her at their home in The Hoo, Harlow, on September 25 last year.

The assault took place after the couple had returned home from the birthday party. Thomas (30), who now lives in Puckeridge, was later found slumped in a telephone box wearing a sailor suit.

Thomas pleaded guilty at Chelmsford Crown Court to a charge of assault causing actual bodily harm. He was given a six-month suspended prison sentence and banned from entering pubs and bars for 12 months.

Andrew Jackson, prosecuting, told the court that after the couple returned home from the party they argued. Miss Mace was then cut by glass from a broken mirror.

Thomas fell downstairs and after Miss Mace called him a loser he assaulted her.

Mr Jackson said: "He said she had come out throwing Wellington boots at him and calling him a loser, whereupon he punched her three times and kicked her."

After the assault, Mr Jackson called the police and ambulance service himself. Mr Jackson added: "The defendant was found slumped in a telephone box in his fancy dress costume."

Graham Brown, representing Thomas, said in mitigation his

Girls put old shoeboxes to good use to send treats to UK troops

SHOEBOXES full of goodies are winging their way to troops serving in Afghanistan thanks to the generosity of Harlow's girlguiding groups. The 1st and 2nd Church Langley Rainbows and 1st Church Langley Brownies clubbed together to fill almost 100 boxes with sweet treats, pampering products and daily essentials for servicemen and women.

And it's not only soldiers who can look forward to some home comforts. The youngsters have even sent off boxes full of squeaky toys, biscuits and bones for the service dogs working on the frontline.

Rainbow and Brownie Guider Valerie Murphy, who helps to run the groups' weekly sessions at Church Langley Community Centre, said she had been "overwhelmed" by the children's efforts.

"The girls have all done a fantastic job in filling their shoeboxes with goodies," she said, "We've managed to send off almost 100, each one with a picture and letter from the children."

"It's difficult to know what to send people you've never met, but hopefully the boxes will put a smile on the face of the brave men and women serving in Afghanistan and remind them that we're all thinking of them back home."

● Adult volunteers are needed to help run the weekly Brownies session at Church Langley Community Centre. For more information, call Valerie on 07831 153857 or email churchlangleyguiding@hotmail.co.uk.

client bitterly regretted his actions. He told the court Miss Mace now wanted them to get back together.

"She wants him back; the incident was out of character," he said.

Passing sentence, judge Christopher Ball told the defendant: "Although this is the first time violence has exploded between yourselves, this was exacerbated by the presence of young children. It was a miserable performance by you."

Eco-friendly changes to route of weekly nappy collection service

PLANNED alterations to routes taken by Harlow Council's nappy and incontinence waste collection crews will mean that pick-up times will change for some residents from next week.

Letters have been sent to all 197 households affected by the change, advising of the alterations to the bookable weekly service which is offered by contractors Veolia in addition to the fortnightly non-recyclable waste collection.

Tony Hall, chairman of the council's environment policy working group, said the route alterations made the service more environmentally friendly.

"The changes are due to rescheduling crew routes so they work in one area of the town each day rather than travelling across the town to different areas. This is better for the environment."

"The changes will not affect the weekly service residents receive; it merely means for some their collection day will change. We will be providing an extra sack for residents to use if the new collection day is later than their usual day."

Money and jewellery taken during break-in POLICE are appealing for witnesses after burglars broke into a house in Harlow and stole various items of jewellery.

The burglary took place in Kingsland between 9am and 11pm on Friday, February 4. The culprits forced open a rear door to gain entry to the property.

They stole cash and jewellery including gold and ruby earrings, a gold chain and crucifix, a gold necklace with zodiac pendant and a matching bracelet.

Anyone with information about the burglary should contact DC Louise Sheridan-Brown at Harlow police station on 0300 333 4444.

Hazel in training for polar ski trek

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A CLINICAL researcher who will be part of a team attempting to ski to the North Pole later this month is urging local businesses and individuals to help her to raise £20,000 for a national children's charity.

Hazel Kurz (35) signed up for the gruelling expedition after being made redundant from her job at GlaxoSmithKline. She is hoping to raise funds for Action Medical Research.

Hazel, who grew up in Harlow and until recently lived in Churchgate Street, said she could not pass up the once-in-a-lifetime challenge, even though she is not really a "cold weather person".

"I just can't wait to go now," she said. "Though I am nervous about the cold, it is really exciting and an opportunity I knew I just had to go for that would raise money for an amazing cause."

"Having personally spent the past 12 years working in clinical research, Action Medical Research is close to my heart as they use the money raised to fund promising, unique research opportunities in hospitals and universities within the UK."

"I just hope I can raise all the money to help them to continue their great work." After completing six months of endurance training, Hazel will leave the UK at the end of this month to travel via Norway to Ice Camp Barneo, deep in the Arctic Circle.

She will be part of an expedition led by Alan Chambers, who led the first successful British unsupported expedition from Canada to the geographic North Pole in 2000.

The demanding trek, which starts at the beginning of April, will require Hazel to ski for up to nine hours a day in temperatures as low as minus -40C while hauling a sledge laden with all her kit.

At the end of each day the team will then have to spend three hours setting up camp in gale force winds and melting snow to make water for drinking and cooking.

"It's definitely going to be tough," said Hazel, "but that is why I hope people will get behind me and offer their support."

"Action Medical Research is an incredible group that is making a real difference to how children are being medically treated. Any donations would be absolutely brilliant and really appreciated."

To sponsor Hazel, visit www.action.org.uk/sponsor/hazelkurz. Corporate sponsors interested in supporting the expedition can contact Hazel at HazelNorthPole@gmail.com or visit her website at www.HazelKurz.com.

Teens encouraged to give club a try

YOUNG people in Harlow are being encouraged to support a new youth club at Church Langely. The Rock Youth club, which provides a safe and fun place to meet with friends, wants more youngsters of secondary school age to try out its weekly sessions and get involved with how the club is run.

Gill Pardoe, one of the club's leaders, said: "The idea of Rock Youth is for youngsters to own their own club, having a say in what they want and choosing the activities we run."

"There is already plenty to do like table tennis, table football and PS2s, or the kids can just come to chill and chat."

"We would encourage people to just give it a try as we know that they will have a really great time."

The Rock Youth club meets on Thursdays at the community centre in Church Langely from 7-9.30pm. For more information, contact Gill on 07847 384012.

Advice for driving with kids on board

LOCAL families have been invited to attend a free safe driving seminar to help minimise the risks when travelling with young children in the car.

The Baby on Board event, organised by Barley Barn Day Nursery at North Weald, will highlight the potential hazards of driving with children and give advice on how to avoid them.

Nursery director Stacey Smith said: "As we all know, children and babies can be such a distraction when driving so we have invited ATC Advanced Driver Training to come along and give anyone who drives with children some tips on how they can properly prepare for journeys."

The evening is being held at the nursery in Rayley Lane from 7.30pm on Thursday, March 17. Places are limited and must be booked in advance by calling (01992) 522400.

Prince's Trust steps in to give children's clubhouse a facelift

A CHILDREN'S clubhouse has received a facelift with the help of a charity.

The Prince's Trust, which helps young people in the area develop key skills through community programmes, chose the FTA Kids Club at Barn Mead Pavilion as their next community project after viewing the building.

Through fundraising initiatives and with the help of donations from local businesses – including paint from Harlow firm S.C. Grover Ltd – the youth charity raised £220 to buy the necessary equipment and set to work repainting the club.

FTA Kids Club director Emma Pickering said: "The Prince's Trust team did a really fantastic job. Everyone worked so well and were a really lovely group to have around. "All the staff, parents and children here love what they have done. Before it was just a grey miserable-looking building covered in horrible graffiti; now it all looks so nice."

Prince's Trust team leader Rebecca Morgan added: "We are really proud of the work carried out by everyone on the team."

"Together we have made a significant difference to the FTA club and it is no longer a burden for the people who work there and for the children attending it."

Midnight Walk gets off to a flying start

IT'S only been a week since the launch of this year's St Clare Hospice Midnight Walk but already Star readers have taken up the challenge.

Entries have been flooding in to the office every day, making sure that this year's Star-backed fundraiser has got off to a flying start.

"It's lovely to see so many entries starting to arrive on my desk and seeing people coming into the hospice to pick up forms because they've seen our posters around the town," said event fundraiser Tracy Stratford.

"Most of the people who have signed up are also new to the event, which is great. The more people that take part, the bigger and better the night and the more fun we can have."

First to register for this year's walk, which takes place in Harlow on Saturday, June 18, were first-timers Jackie Patton and Sue Brown, pictured right.

"I've always wanted to take part in the walk but other commitments always seemed to get in the way," said Jackie. "I thought it would be a good idea to register early so that we can put it in our diaries now."

Sue added: "I was a bit worried about how much training I need to do but the other girls in the group who have taken part in the Midnight Walk before have assured me that it's great fun and that everyone can go at their own pace."

This year the organisers are hoping to persuade 1,500 ladies to take part in the 10k walk around Harlow. Over the past three years a staggering £290,000 has been raised by the Midnight Walk and this year, with the Star's support, the hospice want to make it a total of £400,000.

"Last year St Clare Hospice cared for 426 families in the local community, providing services such as day therapy, inpatient care, outpatient care and bereavement support," said communications manager Giles Wright.

"It costs £2.6m per annum to run the hospice and only 24 per cent is funded by the NHS. We need your support!"

The walk will begin at the Water Gardens in Harlow town centre at 10.30pm. So come on ladies, gather your friends, family and colleagues, sign up and get choosing your pink outfits as this is guaranteed to be a fun night out with a difference!

For the first time the hospice is holding a special promotion during the month of March. If you sign up with a friend BEFORE Thursday, March 31 the joint entry fee will only be £20. That's just £10 per person, in return for which you will receive a 'I painted the town pink' T-shirt and goody bag.

From Friday April 1, the entry fee will return to the normal £15 per person.

Over the next few weeks the Star will be featuring reports about the walk itself, some of the people who will be taking part and the ways the money raised will be used to provide hospice services to the local community.

But why wait to sign up? You can register today online at www.stclarehospice.org.uk, call (01279) 773750 for a registration form or send off the coupon on this page.

SPINNEY JUNIOR:

Breakfast is not only the most important meal of the day but also now the most fun for children attending the Cooks Spinney school's new breakfast club.

The club, which is held every morning, serves up a range of activities before providing a full menu of cereal, fruit, toast, croissants and, occasionally, a special cooked meal for the youngsters to help them get ready for school.

"We decided to set up the club after discovering that some children were coming into school without having eaten breakfast," said headteacher Lella Yates.

"We understand the pressures on parents who are working and have to leave early in the morning, so we thought this would help support them as well as making sure that our children start classes ready for learning."

She added: "The ones that have attended so far have absolutely loved it. We just hope more join up so we can keep this great initiative going."

WATER LANE PRIMARY: A team of budding young business brains at the Broadley Road school have been shortlisted for the finals of the Essex Enterprise Challenge.

After receiving £30 to develop their corporate plans for the challenge, the would-be entrepreneurs decided to invest the money in beads so they could hold bracelet-making workshops for pupils and parents at the school.

Everyone in the class was then assigned different business jobs to help ensure that the project - which they named Glory Emporium - was a success.

Teacher Debbie Symes said: "I am really proud of them. They have worked so well together and came up with the idea and executed it all on their own."

"I think they've got a good chance of winning, but even if they don't it doesn't matter. The children have got so much out of doing the challenge, and the fact that they have managed to establish a club which is making money for the school is extremely commendable."

The class will now make a Dragons Den style pitch to judges at the finals in Chelmsford at the end of the month to try to win the £500 first prize for the school. (photo: HAR0717875)

SCHOOLGATE NURSERY:

Little princesses, superheroes and characters from the Harry Potter novels put in an appearance when the nursery in Carters Mead, Harlow, celebrated World Book Day.

Staff and children dressed up as their favourite storybook characters for the annual event which celebrates books and reading.

Manager Anita Parrish said: "The day went really well and the children had a lot of fun. The costumes were great and we got a real mix of characters ranging from Ben 10 to the beast in Beauty and the Beast."

"The highlight of the day for the children was when staff dressed up and acted out the story of Goldilocks and the Three Bears. It was certainly met with a lot of laughter!"

It's Zumba time in the 'Race' to sign up runners

ORGANISERS of the Harlow Race for Life in aid of Cancer Research UK were out in the town centre this week to drum up support for the event.

The team were joined by staff from the Water Gardens branch of Clarks shoes who are holding a 'fun pink week' in support of Race For Life.

On Monday they were doing their bit to encourage women to sign up to take part in the female-only fundraiser which will be held in Harlow Town Park on Sunday, May 15.

Dance and production company Hip Hop Pop and Zumba instructors from Harlow Leisurezone were also present to entertain shoppers and help boost participation numbers for the race, which raises money to help in the fight against cancer.

Event manager Lucy Hynes said: "On Tuesday it was International Women's Day which focuses attention on women's successes and highlights how much we can achieve together.

"We hope the day will spur Harlow women on to enter Race for Life, where women unite in one cause to help beat cancer.

"All women are welcome, regardless of whether they are taking part on their own or as part of a group."

Currently almost 650 women have signed up for the event, which is being supported by the Star. Organisers are hoping that by the time registration closes more than 4,000 will have entered, helping them to reach the fundraising target of £315,000.

All women regardless of age, fitness level or ability can take part by walking, jogging or running either the 5k or 10k route.

To sign up, log on to www.raceforlife.org or call 0871 641 1111.

Health bus set to roll into town

RESIDENTS can get tips on living a healthier lifestyle when an NHS health bus rolls into Harlow next week.

The travelling advice centre, which has been set up in partnership with pharmaceutical firm Pfizer, will park up at the Sainsbury's store in Fifth Avenue on Wednesday.

On-board health professionals will be available from 10am-3pm to offer health advice and carry out free lung health and Chlamydia tests.

People with disabilities must be treated with dignity and support

MICHELLE MARTIN: As a supporter of the National Autistic Society, I am extremely concerned about the Disability Living Allowance reforms. It will mean people with autism will have to undergo a stringent face-to-face assessment in order to claim this vital benefit. Autism is a 'hidden' disability and unless assessors have specific training in the condition, it is very likely the needs of people with autism will be misunderstood or overlooked. The National Autistic Society's 'Who Benefits?' campaign puts forward the following points aimed at protecting society's most vulnerable:

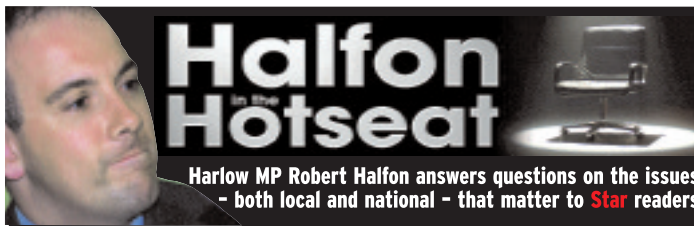

● People shouldn't have to go through a face-to-face assessment if they already have sufficient evidence about their autism from previous assessments

● People with autism experience a variety of difficulties with daily life. The Government must make sure that these are reflected in the new assessment.

● Assessors must be trained so that they understand autism and how to talk to someone with autism, and can make a fair assessment of that person's needs.

● The Government must not abolish mobility component of DLA for people living in residential care.

What is Mr Halfon's view?

ROBERT HALFON: Thank you for this question, Michelle.

We're lucky in Harlow to have PACT (Parents of Autistic Children Together), which does so much to help parents who have autistic children. The parents I have met through PACT have made me aware of issues that I might not have otherwise understood as well.

Through PACT I have also met with the National Autistic Society a number of times. The NAS asked me to table a Parliamentary Motion to support adults with autism, which I was pleased to do. This is because 63 per cent of adults who suffer from autism do not feel that they get the help they need.

To answer Michelle's points specifically, I am very concerned about how people with disabilities are tested for the DLA. As someone who has a walking disability myself, I know that dignity and support must go hand-in-hand. For months now I have been pressing the Government about ATOS, a company that assesses disability payments. I have fought for people who are assessed to be treated more humanely, as many Harlow people have complained to me about poor treatment.

For these reasons I met with the welfare minister, Chris Grayling, before Christmas, and he has assured me that there will be reforms to the ways that welfare is assessed for the disabled.

I agree that testing must be simple and fair. I will make these points to the Government, and will let you have a response as soon as I hear back.

To submit a question to Mr Halfon, email star@hertsessexnews.co.uk or write to Harlow Star, 6 West Gate, Harlow, Essex CM20 1JW.

All questions must be accompanied by the name and postal address of the author. Questions submitted anonymously will not be considered.

On the mobility component of DLA, I accept that this is a serious problem and recently made a speech about this in Parliament during which I said: "A number of constituents have contacted me, deeply worried about the Government's plans for reform of the mobility allowance, especially for those recipients in care homes. Only a small number of people are affected but they are deeply anxious and they do not have a political axe to grind. I believe that disabled people must never become prisoners in their own homes but must retain access to the outside world."

The Minister for the Disabled, Maria Miller, responded: "The measure is not intended to lead to a loss of independence and we remain committed to promoting greater personalisation for disabled people. I reiterate that milestones have been agreed with the Association of Directors of Adult Social Services, including the growth in personal budgets, and we are absolutely committed to the implementation of personalisation across the board."

Initially the Government planned to end the mobility component of DLA from 2012-13 to claimants who have been in a residential care home for more than 28 days. This would have affected about 58,000 people. However, people affected would have retained an underlying entitlement to the benefit and payments would have started again if they left the care home. However, as I understand it, the Minister for the Disabled has now said that the measures will now be delayed by at least a year and that a review will also narrow the number of claimants affected. On top of this, they will roll the payment into a new 'Personal Independence' grant which will replace the Disability Living Allowance. This will be money given directly to people with disabilities, to spend as they see fit.

I think it is important that there is no loss of income for those people affected. Local Councils will also have a legal obligation to provide mobility for residents from social care funding. I would welcome any further thoughts that you have on this so that I can discuss them with the Minister for the Disabled.

Man guilty of vicious attack is spared jail

A THUG responsible for a vicious attack which left a man with a number of injuries has avoided being sent to jail.

Matthew Camp (26) punched and kicked his victim, Gavin Shuter, several times "with some ferocity", Chelmsford Crown Court was told.

But instead of being sent to prison, Camp, of Tawneys Road, Harlow, was given a 10-month suspended sentence.

The court was told Mr Shuter had gone to Camp's flat on the evening of July 24 last year in search of his girlfriend.

Camp told him she wasn't inside but Mr Shuter then spotted her and became extremely angry, hurling a stone and breaking a window.

The court was told that Mr Shuter's actions had made the defendant concerned for his own safety.

Camp tried to chase Mr Shuter away, wielding a knife to scare him off before he and another man went outside and assaulted him, leaving him with a blackened eye, lumps on his head, a swollen cheek, jaw and ear, cut lips, sore ribs and grazes.

Camp, who had no previous convictions, pleaded guilty to assault causing actual bodily harm. He was given a 10-month sentence suspended for 18 months, with 12 months supervision, 150 hours of unpaid work and a two-month curfew between the hours of 9pm and 5am.

He was also ordered to pay Mr Shuter £500 compensation and £1,000 prosecution costs.

Judge Karen Walden-Smith, in passing sentence, told Camp: "Plainly there was some provocation but none which could possibly justify the way in which you acted. It was a vicious assault."

She said she accepted Camp had acted out of character and that he was genuinely remorseful.

Police seek help to identify man suspected of damaging pub door

POLICE have released this CCTV image of a man they want to speak to in connection with criminal damage at a pub in Harlow town centre.

The incident happened at 12.35am on Monday, January 31 when a man kicked in the front door of the William Aylmer pub, in Kitson Way, causing the glass panel to shatter.

Anyone with information should contact PC Julie Cooke at Harlow police station on 0300 333 4444 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

County council to target proxy sales of alcohol

ESSEX County Council is calling for the help of the public as it launches a new countywide crackdown on underage drinking.

Trading standards officers are targeting adults who purchase alcohol on behalf of minors, warning anyone involved in so-called "proxy sales" can be hit with an £80 on-the-spot fine or face prosecution in the courts.

"This is an ongoing issue and it is important that people are aware that what they are doing is wrong," said a County Hall spokeswoman.

Hotel's oak tree shipped off to Mayflower project

A HOTEL in Harlow has done its bit to help preserve history by donating a 150-year-old oak tree from its grounds to a project building a replica of the ship on which the Pilgrim Fathers sailed to America.

When the tree had to be cut down for safety reasons, staff at The Park Inn Hotel, in Southern Way, were determined not to let the wood go to waste and arranged for the oak to be transferred to Harwich for the Mayflower Project.

As well as constructing the replica ship, the scheme aims to educate local people, particularly troubled youngsters, in specialised trade skills including shipwrighting and metalworking. Park Inn general manager James Gardner, pictured, said: "It's not easy to get rid of that sort of wood without just burning it so when we heard about the Mayflower Project we thought it seemed like a great idea."

"Not only will the wood help build the replica but it will also benefit the local community, in particular underprivileged groups who will get to sail the ship once it's completed."

Rescue dog Bode's 'snow hole' ordeal

THE tables were turned on a brave rescue dog after the plucky pooch spent two days trapped down a snow-covered hole in Scotland.

Bode had to be rescued herself after going missing while out checking the ski slopes of the Glenshee resort for injured skiers.

After two days of searching for the young collie cross, rescue teams discovered her stuck down a hole one-and-a-half metres deep after hearing her howling.

Despite her 48-hour ordeal in sub-zero temperatures, she was safe and in good health.

Trainer and owner Kate Hunter told reporters: "She was cold and wet but otherwise okay. She was allowed to sleep on the sofa that night!"

Dogs are not usually allowed onto the ski slopes, but Bode has been trained to help out in the event of an avalanche.

Kate explained: "If there was an avalanche in the ski area and Bode had half an idea where people might be buried then that would quicken the chances of a rescue."

"Bode comes with me when I open up, which involves going up and down the runs checking for hazards."

Despite her ordeal, Bode was back at work checking the slopes the following morning.

Ram's words of warning for all Lottery hopefuls

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE odds of winning the lottery are so mind-bogglingly remote it's a wonder that anyone bothers staking their hard-earned cash on the glorified prize draw.

Nevertheless, millions of people are seduced every week by the fact "you've got to be in it to win it", happily throwing coins at the chance of a champagne lifestyle of cars, holidays and cosmetic surgery.

But what if you actually won the lottery? In fact, what if you actually won three lotteries in a row with a combined jackpot of £98m? Would all your troubles simply melt away in the perpetual sunshine of your perfect new life?

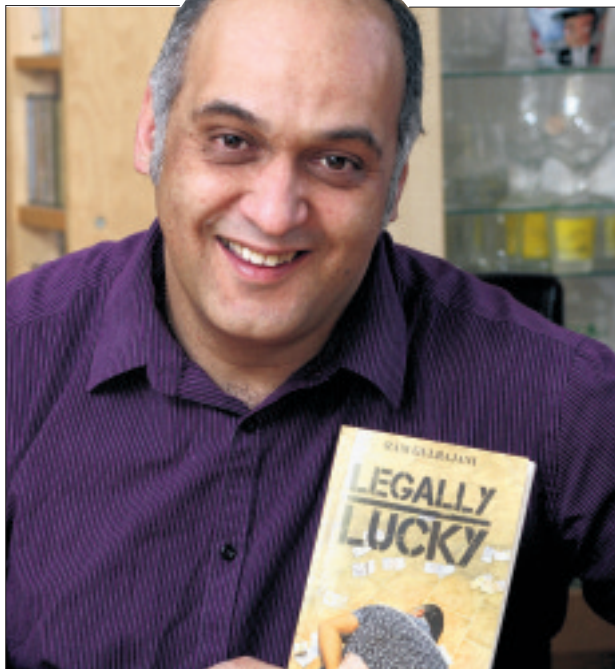

That is the question facing the protagonist of Harlow author Ram Gulrajani's debut novel Legally Lucky, a modern-day parable of greed, aspiration and obsession with fame.

"I wanted to look at how our hopes and dreams can all too easily take over our lives," said Ram, of Glebelands.

"With today's cult of celebrity, everyone seems to want their 15 minutes of fame. But this is very much a cautionary tale exploring the flipside of that dream."

Part morality tale, part courtroom drama, the story follows Gibraltar-born Raj Adwani, a promising young footballer whose dreams of moving to the UK and playing for a top club are wrecked by a freak injury.

Seeing his fledgling career go up in smoke, he is consumed by self-pity and goes off the rails, until one day he defies near-impossible odds to win three lotteries in succession.

But what should be his ticket to happiness and security soon descends into nightmare as his family falls apart and unwelcome press scrutiny ultimately sees Raj and two friends in court on corruption charges.

"Essentially it's a moral tale about living life to the full," said Ram, who works as a respiratory nurse specialist for NHS West Essex.

"In my job I deal with lots of seriously-ill people who understand how precious life is and how important it is to make the most of the time you've got. Hopefully I've succeeded in getting this message across in the novel."

● Legally Lucky is published by Authorhouse and is available online at www.authorhouse.co.uk and www.amazon.co.uk.

One week of freedom, too weak for laughter

HALL PASS certificate 15 1h45m

AFTER the success of 1998's There's Something About Mary, writer-directors Bobby and Peter Farrelly have failed to repeat their trademark recipe of slapstick, heart-warming romance and toilet humour with such crowd-pleasing abandon. Their new potty-mouthed battle of the sexes, Hall Pass, takes an off-kilter premise – two wives grant their men a week's grace from marriage to sleep with as many women as they want – as the starting point for 105 minutes of half-hearted soul-searching and vulgarity.

Maggie (Jenna Fischer) and Grace (Christina Applegate) are sick and tired of their husbands, Rick (Owen Wilson) and Fred (Jason Sudeikis), ogling other women and behaving like idiots.

So at the suggestion of their friend Dr Lucy (Joy Behar), the women grant their spouses 'hall passes' for one week. Rick and Fred hit the town with pals Gary (Stephen Merchant), Hog Head (Larry Joe Campbell) and Flats (JB Smoove) in tow.

Meanwhile, Maggie and Grace leave town with the children and babysitter Paige (Alexandra Daddario) to find some pleasing distractions of their own: namely college baseball coach Rick (Bruce Thomas) and big-hitting protegee, Gerry (Tyler Hoechlin).

Hall Pass boasts a couple of hearty guffaws but for the most part the response to the script and to Wilson and Sudeikis is weak smiles.

Despite prominent placing in TV ads and on posters, Merchant features only fleetingly and is completely sidelined from the second half of the film, re-appearing during the end credits.

Thank goodness for Fischer and Applegate, who are luminous and sweeten this otherwise bitter and twisted pill.

Hall Pass suffers from a major credibility problem with the pairings of the central characters. The men are artless, unsympathetic schmucks who have somehow managed to walk down the aisle with intelligent, feisty and sexy women.

It's no wonder that the male characters end the film on an emotional high, realising how lucky they are to have such amazing wives.

Property Editor

INTEREST in the UK property market has continued to grow at an amazing rate over the past decade.

You only have to turn on the television to discover yet another property related show or visit your local supermarket and newsagent where the choice of glossy home-related publications seems to grow each month.

Whether we're on the move or staying put, it seems our appetite for property gossip shows no sign of abating.

In any housing market, anything that makes your home stand out is a major asset. It might be a special period feature for some or a minimalist, contemporary design for others. However, nothing can turn heads quite as easily as a breathtaking garden.

Your outside space can be a deal-clincher and, in fact, many people will take the garden into account as much as the property itself when it comes to considering their new home. Sometimes your garden can be special enough to sell your residence, whether you're talking vast acreage or a tiny cottage plot.

As the new season gets under way, there couldn't be a better time to make sure your garden is looking its best. If there are jobs you have been putting off, now is the time to tackle them.

A stunning garden will capture the hearts and minds of the least green-fingered of prospective buyers. Even if you're not thinking of selling anytime soon, any work undertaken in the garden now will reap rewards for many years to come.

And if you have no garden at all, why not add something pretty such as a hanging basket or a tub or two? First impressions always count.

New Car Registration

GB NEW REG II

March 2011

Ford's new Focus is another chart-topper

EVEN if you don't claim to be a car enthusiast, it would be hard to ignore that the Focus has been a huge hit for Ford.

It's been an almost permanent fixture at the top of the sales charts since its original launch and been the benchmark others have been judged by ever since.

So what's new? In a nutshell, everything. Now positioned as a world car within Ford, this Focus will be sold around the world. That brings economies of scale and is one reason why the car can be had with a range of good value optional equipment packages such as an impressive safety kit bundle.

There's also a greater emphasis on economy and emissions, with the range kicking off with a 109g/km diesel and the promise of more to come in the future. Engine stop-start technology plus the use of Ford's new EcoBoost petrol engines and fuel-sipping DSG Powershift gearboxes add to Ford's frugal approach to motoring.

The cabin is noticeably driver-centric, with the car's major controls close to hand. There's also no shortage of information available to the driver, what with a pair of superbly clear electronic displays – one for the audio unit and one between the main dials.

But it takes more than a cursory glance around the cabin to fully appreciate the lengths Ford has gone to in order to maintain its class-leading status. The same is true out on the road as, initially, the experience appears to have shifted considerably more towards comfort.

Considerable praise should also be directed towards the engine department. Ford is offering 1.6 and 2.0-litre engines in both petrol and diesel form, in a range of power outputs. In petrol guise there's a choice of 105, 125 and 150 horsepower, while diesels run from 115 to 140 and 163 horsepower.

Predictably, the highest output diesel motor scores well if you plan on racking up the miles. Its flexible nature makes light work of long distances and its six-speed manual gearbox can be swapped for a DSG-style auto if you wish.

Ford's petrol motors have improved beyond all recognition in recent years. As a willing, free-revving alternative to the more frugal diesel units, such engines prove ideal for shorter, stop-start journeys and boast less weight, which further enhances the car's agility.

Packaged as a bundle of features, you get a blind spot warning, lane departure alert, city speed auto braking function and a speed limit sign reader that displays the relevant information in the electronic fascia readout. You can thank Ford's economies of scale approach for the decision and look forward to more of the same in the years to come with other new Fords.

Make no mistake, this Focus is a supremely competent and attractive car. It might take a few minutes – and a few miles behind the wheel – to fully appreciate the progress made by Ford's engineers but when you do you'll be pleasantly surprised by what's been achieved.

The combination of big-car refinement and equipment levels, a rounded and polished driving experience and an engine range offering real world savings are just a few of the many highlights. Even in uncertain times, if its performance is anything to go by this Focus is destined to be another chart-topper.

Chevy with a bevy of benefits for families

Chevrolet is looking to tempt us out of our Zafira, Picasso and C-MAX MPVs and into its Orlando. On first acquaintance it looks to have a decent chance of doing just that. ANDY ENRIGHT reports.

Ten-second review

THERE has always been a market for inexpensive family-friendly vehicles and the queue only grows if a manufacturer can inject an element of style into the mix. Chevrolet's Orlando isn't a particularly innovative seven seater mini-MPV but its keen pricing and chunky styling will endear it to many.

Driving experience

AS befits its role as a cost-effective people mover, the Orlando doesn't pack anything too exciting under its stubby bonnet. There's a 139bhp 1.8-litre petrol engine which will attract heavy discounting and allow Chevrolet to post an eye-catching price tag in their ads, and then there are the engines that most UK buyers will want. These comprise a pair of diesels, both of two-litre capacity, producing either 139 or 161bhp. The 1.8 petrol is a fairly inoffensive unit but it's worth remembering that it's got a lot of bulk to haul here and it lacks the torque to pull a typically laden Orlando with any sparkle.

Price range: £16,395 - £23,195

The diesels are a far wiser choice and they're even acceptably refined. The driving position is acceptable with plenty of adjustment, although the chunky rear pillars and tapered side windows mean that rear three-quarter visibility isn't the best. If you're worried about this, best to specify the reverse parking sensors to help you navigate into tight parking spots. At 4,470mm long, the Orlando is a mere 3mm longer than a Vauxhall Zafira, and is exactly as long as a Citroen C4 Picasso, so it's fairly easy to get a handle on the size of vehicle you would be edging into a parking bay.

Design and build

THE received wisdom is that any mini-MPV stands or falls by the quality of its seating layout. To this end we've seen all manner of ingenuity, with seats springing from all sorts of orifices but there's only so much you can do with a given wheelbase and the Orlando copies the homeword of the current cleverest in class, the Vauxhall Zafira. In all there are 30 seating combinations and a rear seat mirror will allow you to keep an eye on the kids.

Chevrolet says that in spite of the sweeping roofline, the designers have succeeded in raising the second and third row of seats, which means Orlando's rear occupants get an even better view forwards. What this really means is that the fuel tank has to be packaged somewhere and, like most MPVs, it's safely positioned under the passenger seats. There are storage compartments situated in the centre console, front and rear doors, rear luggage area and in the roof. There's even a stowage space concealed behind front fascia of the audio system, and its big enough to house your iPod or wallet. There's also a USB port in there for charging on the fly.

Market and model

SOMEWHAT strangely for a car called an Orlando and built in the US, this Chevy isn't sold in the States and is designed with a European audience in mind. It's built like a European rather than an American product too, with decent materials, tight shutlines and no significant acreage of elephant-grey plastic. As with all Chevrolet models, equipment levels are strong for the money.

The fascia design is reminiscent of the latest Ford models, with a bullhorn centre console in this case topped by an LCD display that houses a rear view camera in upper specification models. The layout of the minor controls will be familiar to Vauxhall Astra drivers and the only slightly jarring material choice is the automatic gearshift gate. Otherwise the dashboard is smartly finished and the multi-function steering wheel makes operating the stereo simplicity itself.

Cost of ownership

IF you're at all interested in economy, it's worth avoiding the 1.8-litre petrol. Yes, you could fire up Excel, calculate the upfront savings and then figure out your annual mileage and the break-even point when the diesel model would be a more cost-effective buy, but don't bother. The reason why is that you won't achieve anything like the published economy figures in the petrol-engined car, and that's because you'll need to thrash it mercilessly to get anywhere. It just lacks the torque to make driving relaxing and family driving needs all the help it can get when it comes to stress relief. Far better to target one of the two diesels. If you do, you'll be rewarded with beefier residual values and cheaper road tax to boot. The entry-level diesel model returns an excellent 58.7mpg and, depending on trim choice, should emit around 130g/km of carbon dioxide.

TAKE ANOTHER LOOK AT THE SEVEN SEATER.

The all-new seven seat Chevrolet Orlando combines attitude with ability. Inspired design. Impressive flexibility. The Orlando is a car built for those who value looks as much as they value versatility. The new Chevrolet Orlando. Whatever you want it to be.

New-face Corsa is way out of the ordinary

To the uninitiated, the Vauxhall Corsa might seem a very ordinary car. Drive one and you'll realise it's anything but. ANDY ENRIGHT reports.

Ten-second review

THE Vauxhall Corsa offers a feeling of quality and solidity that's unparalleled in the supermini class at any price. Couple that with refreshed styling, a range of economical engines and a much improved ride and handling setup and you have a very convincing proposition. Small wonder sales remain strong.

Driving experience

THE Corsa has always been a safe and steady handler, instead drawing on its other attributes to impress customers. Yes, there is the rip-snorting VXR model that has long attempted to put one over on the Renaultsport Clio, but by and large the Corsa never forged much of a reputation as an entertaining steer. Vauxhall aims to change that with a raft of chassis upgrades on this latest car. Revised front suspension means less roll when entering corners and better suppression of bumps. The steering has been fettled as well and the ESP stability control system has been re-tuned to make it smarter and less intrusive.

There's a huge array of engine choice, from the petrol-powered 1-litre, 1.2-litre and 1.4-litre units which now produce 64bhp, 84bhp and 99bhp respectively to the 128bhp 1.7-litre diesel which spearheads the line up, with a budget 1.3-litre CDTi acting as the entry level option in 74, 89 and 94bhp guises.

Price range: £9,995 - £18,625

Design and build

THE big change that most will notice is that the Corsa has, in true celeb style, received a new face. The old 'V-grille' has been replaced by a signature chrome bar that stretches across the entire front grille, carrying the Griffin badge, while a re-styled front bumper gives the Corsa a friendlier look. Meriva-style 'Eagle-Eye' headlamps with chrome finish and daytime running lights are fitted and the chrome detailing also extends to the fog lights. A new set of exterior colours is offered and the wheels have also come in for a redesign with the 18-inch VXR alloys looking particularly purposeful.

The car's basic proportions haven't changed significantly. There's still the same choice of three and five-door versions that offer plenty of space up front and less in the back, in typical supermini style. All Corsa model feature a relatively elevated driving position, but a wheel that's adjustable for reach and rake helps all but the very tallest drivers get comfortable. Quality remains very strong and a refreshing of some of the materials in the cabin only underscores that impression. A 285-litre boot is adequate for the weekly shop or a weekend away, although this can be extended to 1100 litres by folding the rear seats.

Market and model

THE Corsa comes in an abundance of different trim levels and special edition packages. The range gets underway with the budget Expression and S models and then steps up to the well-equipped Exclusiv and the positively overstuffed SE grade as well as the sporty flavour of the SXi, SRI and VXR models. The cleanest and most fuel efficient models also get the ecoFLEX badge. Unsurprisingly prices are competitive. The premium for the more practical 5-door bodystyle is £750 but it's the 3-door that best displays the Corsa's neat styling.

Equipment levels are strong with this latest model getting features such as Vauxhall's optional Touch & Connect multi-media system, which uses a five-inch touch screen display featuring both 2D and 3D maps for the navigation system, as well as a CD/tuner, AUX-in, USB and Bluetooth mobile phone connectivity. Halogen Adaptive Forward Lighting (AFL) alters the beam of the headlamp according to speed and steering input.

Cost of ownership

HOW does the prospect of 91mpg on a motorway grab you? As you motor along, sipping fuel at this inconceivably modest rate, you could think of all the things you could be spending the money on instead of swelling OPEC's coffers. A family holiday? Perhaps a new television? Economy can be quite liberating in that regard. This sort of frugality is on offer from the 94bhp ecoFLEX model. It'll average 78.5mpg and with its Start/Stop technology it'll also emit just 94g/km of CO₂, which means the Chancellor can't even sting you for road tax.

Low prices, strong economy and low insurance costs make the Corsa an attractive proposition for supermini buyers on a tight budget but Vauxhall's aggressive pricing and use of promotional special edition models means that residual values will be a little bit below the best in the class. That's a price that most will be willing to pay for the modest expense associated with owning a Corsa.

Tidy up for Vauxhall's 'soft roader'

By Iain Dooley

AS any car executive will tell you, moving with the times is key to survival. Market trends and customer buying habits change so often now that the you can't stand still for even a moment.

When it was first launched, Vauxhall's Antara allowed the brand to move into the expanding 'soft-roader' market. The car's chunky looks and smart blend of Vauxhall design added a sense of familiarity to its go-anywhere abilities thanks to the inclusion of all-wheel drive. Second time around and the Antara retains its trademark purposeful looks, although there's been a general tidy up fore and aft. It also gains an electronic parking brake and a new diesel engine in two states of tune plus the option of front-wheel drive.

Mechanically, these options fit well with the current focus on lower emissions and fuel consumption. A predictable but welcome refining of the car's on-road behaviour also forms part of the update package.

Aside from the on-paper changes, it shouldn't come as a surprise that the Antara is a spacious and accommodating car. What does come as a surprise is that it rivals some full-size SUVs for a general feeling of roominess, despite boasting a similar sized footprint to a conventional family estate.

Engine: 2.2-litre turbocharged diesel unit developing 184bhp

The Antara's cabin also boasts a more upmarket ambience than before. The use of higher quality plastics and contrasting trim materials have done much to boost the car's aesthetic appeal.

There's a school of thought that believes such a policy will help lure customers away from more expensive premium SUVs as some buyers choose to downsize for cost saving reasons. Certainly, the general fit, finish and overall feel of the Antara's revised cabin lends considerable weight to this argument.

Out on the road, the Antara corners well with a minimum of body roll and stops with little effort. The car's ride is generally compliant but Vauxhall's engineers have opted for a slightly firm setup to boost driver enjoyment. And, even with big wheels fitted, the Antara copes well with the usual urban hazards. Normally at this point it would be time to talk about the car's all-wheel drive performance. However, in line with an increasing number of rivals, front-wheel drive is now an option.

Predictably this is a great choice for buyers who will never venture away from the security of Tarmac and are relatively undemanding when it comes to towing caravans or trailers. The trade off is a modest improvement in fuel consumption and CO₂ emissions from the Antara's 2.2-litre diesel engine.

For some, though, the attraction of all-wheel drive is easy to justify. In reality, the Antara's 'on demand' system offers the best of both worlds anyway.

Only working when it's needed, the system is smart, effective and quick to respond, meaning the driver needn't worry too much about changing conditions.

Ordinarily, power is sent to the front wheels but when a loss of grip is detected that balance can change to as much as 50 per cent to the rear wheels depending on the conditions. Factor in hill descent control and you're all set for that muddy hill ahead.

Of course, none of this would be possible without the inclusion of Vauxhall's new 2.2-litre diesel engine. This Euro 5 specification motor can be had with either 163 or 184 horsepower, with the former also available for front-drive variants.

Aside from power outputs, the engines also boast wallet-friendly economy credentials. The low power unit combines 44.8mpg with a CO₂ rating of 167g/km while the high power option delivers 42.8mpg and 175g/km CO₂. Both prove exceptionally quiet and refined on the road and lack the noisy, rattly attributes that are still a feature of some rivals' engines.

Acceleration is brisk, especially with the 184 horsepower Antara, and the standard fit six-speed manual gearbox can be swapped for a six-speed auto – both new for the Antara.

Available in two trim levels and packing a considerable amount of standard fit safety and comfort equipment, Vauxhall's revised Antara offers drivers a refined and enjoyable driving experience.

As an alternative to a conventional family car, the five-seat SUV's practical cabin easily accommodates an active lifestyle, while the all-wheel drive element will be the icing on the cake for anyone seeking to break away from the beaten track.

ASX- The new crossover from Mitsubishi Just the right size to...

Big enough for a horde of excitable kids, yet small enough to cope with rush hour, the new ASX has been designed for real people with real lives. At home on city streets or open country roads, the higher driving position, class-leading interior space and assured handling have been intelligently packaged to create an agile and versatile family car. And the low CO₂ engines, Auto Stop & Go, energy efficient tyres and advanced alternator control will reduce the size of your carbon footprint, saving you money to spend on living. We call this intelligent Motion.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

BERR Environment Agency

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF:
B & T Motor Salvage

We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our own recovery vehicles and issue a Certificate of Destruction from the Department of Vehicle Licensing Authority via our direct link to their website. Payment per vehicle negotiable.

THE FABWEEKEND

The unmissable fashion and beauty event from style
cambridge

The Fashion and Beauty weekend in Cambridge March 18 - 20

Enjoy a weekend in Cambridge filled with numerous live fashion shows at the key shopping venues across the city during Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

A superb beauty exhibition will be held at the Cambridge Corn Exchange on the Saturday, come along and meet the presenter of Sky Livings Fat Families, Motivational and Confidence Coach - Steve Miller. In addition, the exhibition will offer a variety of fashion retailers, beauty experts and cosmetic surgery advice. Whether you are looking for some wardrobe advice, confidence tips or a perfect workout plan ready for summer this is the place to be.

Visit www.cambridge-news.co.uk/fab for a full list of events and offers available. You will also find more information on Cambridge as a fabulous shopping destination and, for all first time visitors hotel details, recommended leisure activities and ideas on eating out and the Cambridge night life.

Grand Arcade's Fashion Fiesta Runway Shows

Celebrate the arrival of the Spring/Summer collections at Grand Arcade's Fashion Fiesta when a feast of fashions will take to the catwalk at the award-winning centre. The Grand Fashion Fiesta, on Friday March 18th, launches The Fab Weekend.

The Grand Fashion Fiesta will feature four free, 45-minute shows scheduled at 11am, 12.30, 2pm and 4pm. Key trends will include amazing lace, floating fabrics, flamenco ruffles and a sea of blue. Stay to watch two consecutive shows to see the full range of fashions and make the most of the day by collecting money-off vouchers at the Show-to-Shop Zone for a spot of post-show shopping. Our spring/summer fashion shows will preview key trends, accessories, hair styles and beauty looks at Grand Arcade and feature a range of price points. This is the fashion event of the year with promotions across the centre of up to 25% off.

A theatre of fashion at The Grafton

The Grafton is putting on a spectacular stage in Great Court and inviting fashion fans, photographers and wannabe choreographers to show just how fashionable

Cambridge is. Capsule fashion shows and make-up presentations will run throughout the weekend with a creative fashion show by Anglia Ruskin fashion students on Saturday and a unique Vintage show and exhibition on Sunday. The FAB weekend is about celebrating fashion together and we are calling schools to join in with some fun fashion in our style challenge for Comic Relief on Friday, budding stylists to take on the challenge of "Look $1,000,000 on the budget of £100" on Saturday and upcoming photographers to submit their best fashion photos throughout the weekend, with great prizes up for grabs. Stores are putting on amazing offers throughout the weekend across fashion, beauty and leisure and with fantastic shopper competitions, this is the weekend for a great day out and the chance to refresh your wardrobe with the latest spring/ summer looks. See The Grafton's website www.graftoncentre.co.uk for all the offers from our stores and for details on how to participate in the activity-packed weekend.

VOLUNTEERS REQUIRED

Care By Us, a local family run business providing community care into people's homes, have recently set-up their own charity Local Links With Us to support vulnerable people living within the community.

Do you enjoy helping people and have a few hours to spare because Local Links With Us would love to hear from Volunteers as they need help to run their special Community Clubs and, or visit people in their own homes.

Local Links With Us have 4 Clubs: Parkinson's, Memory, Learning Difficulties and a General Club which meet on Monday afternoons in Bishops Stortford and they desperately need volunteers to help run these fun afternoons. They are also planning day trips for their groups.

Local Links With Us are developing a support network for people living in their own home, it could be just an hour a week of your time to visit someone and have a chat and cup of tea, or help them with shopping or going to an appointment. A visit from you would make their day, it is an hour of your time but worth ten times that to them and it is their lifeline.

Transport expenses will be paid plus any necessary Training and CRB checking will be provided.

If you are interested please contact the Care By Us HR department on 01279 755875 or send an e-mail to volunteers@locallinkswithus.org

NewstrAid also funded a mobility scooter which allows him to gain access to local shops and amenities. European Champs woe for Huckle

JAMES Huckle needs to switch back on if his dream of making the London Olympic 2012 Games is to be realised.

The 20-year-old from Old Harlow is set to fly to Australia this Sunday and will be competing in a World Cup event in Sydney on March 20 before he flies to Korea to compete in another key competition in early April.

They will have major bearing on his qualification for the Great Britain Olympic team.

Huckle, left, will want to improve on his two disappointing performances this year.

Last weekend, the Harlow marksman was 60th out of 97 in the European Championships event in Brescia, Italy.

Huckle, who gained four medals at the Commonwealth Games in India last October, scored 583 out of 600 points in Italy. This may seem a superb score but it was behind the top score of 595 as the Harlow youngster found himself up against some of the world's best marksman.

He said: "I found out beforehand it was not a quota event [for Olympics qualification]. I switched off a bit. I did not use the right technique and kept on making the same mistakes.

"You need to be perfect. Nothing else will do. I cannot just accept things."

In January, he came 49th out of 88 shooters in the 10m air rifle category at the IWK International Air Gun Competition in Munich.

Huckle will be competing in three categories at two forthcoming World Cup events. These are in the 10m air rifle category, the 50m prone and the 50m three positions.

He added: "I have gone from strength to strength in training. I do not see why I cannot capitalise on that at a competition event, but a lot happens when you are under pressure. I would be lying if I said I was not nervous."

SPORT IN BRIEF: Harlow AC youngster Molly Gardner secured a fine fourth place in the Independent National Schools 2,100m Cross Country Championships.

Running for the London North region, Molly (Year 5) ran a fantastic race in a field of 76 Year 5 and Year 6 girls.

Molly got caught in the field at the start of the race, but within the first 300m managed to get to 12th place. Over the next 200m Molly powered up a steep incline taking another 5 places to move into 7th spot.

With 400m to go she took fourth and narrowly missed bronze by less than two seconds.

First-half collapse gives Ladies mountain to climb

THE price was paid for a disastrous 12-minute spell in the first half from Harlow before they slipped to a narrow defeat at Maldon & Little Baddow.

Breaks down the left for Maldon resulted in a player twice going round Harlow keeper Linda Rowley and scoring for the hosts after 18 and 22 minutes of Saturday's match.

Harlow rallied before Maldon counter-attacked and they scored a third goal

Maldon & Little Baddow 4, Harlow Ladies 3

Essex Women's Hockey League, prem div

after Harlow's defence was out-numbered.

Maldon added a fourth just three minutes later, but Harlow reduced the deficit two minutes before the break.

Emma Tweddle intercepted a ball down the right, and her cross found Carolyn Welsford who had time to shoot past the Maldon keeper.

Harlow then scored a second goal on 47 minutes.

A three-player move ended with Michelle Stanesby's shot hitting the woodwork before Petra Trimble turned in the rebound.

On 64 minutes, Ann Ferdinando set up Welsford to fire home, reducing Maldon's lead to 4-3.

Just before the end, Harlow's Gill Phipps just failed to stretch to convert a chance at the near post.

Harlow are now 6th in the table.

HARLOW (squad): Rowley, Shearman, Figg, Chambers, Douglas, Welsford, Tweddle, Trimble, Ferdinando, Esterhuysen, Amos, Stanesby, Phipps.

Other result: East Men's Hockey League, div four south east: Brentwood III 3, Harlow 1.

Braintree batter broken Rams

Harlow 0, Braintree 62

RFU, London division two north east

By DAVID RIMMER

A DEPLETED Harlow side were put to the sword on Saturday by high-flying Braintree and surely relegation to division three north east is imminent.

They now have just four games left – all away – before their season is complete.

The Rams were missing a few players including full-back Rob Mackie (skiing holiday), as well as locks Mark Twiner (work commitments) and Darren Hawkins (holiday).

Despite the brave efforts of forwards Paul Eynon and Scott Romaine, Harlow were unable to match the pace, intent and superb ball retention of Braintree who scored 10 tries and defended well when they had to.

The tone was set early.

Braintree recycled efficiently from a line-out and two phases later prop Jamie Prince scored a third-minute try converted by Craig Willis.

Three minutes later, Prince cut inside to expose Harlow's flat defence and scored an unconverted try.

THWARTED: Harlow flanker Mark Bowering is stopped by the Braintree forwards (HSP0717841)

Harlow fought hard and ran out of tacklers as Braintree's wing Nick Ashford darted over for an 18th-minute try converted by Willis, putting the visitors 19-0 ahead.

Braintree's ability to keep the ball live paved the way for two more first-half tries for wing Darren Page and fullback Jos Adams on 32 and 40 minutes.

Willis converted one and Braintree led 31-0 at half-time.

The Braintree juggernaut continued after the break when consistent pressure led to scrum-half Dave Martindale darting over for a 45th-minute try, brilliantly converted by Willis.

The irrepressible Prince completed his hat-trick of tries on 53 minutes.

Willis converted for a 45-0 lead.

Harlow then exerted pressure but a lack of conviction at crucial moments and excellent Braintree drift defence meant the hosts could not score.

Braintree scored an unconverted rolling maul try through Steve Sewell on 62 minutes before Adams and Tom Green went over to complete the annihilation. One of these tried was converted by Willis.

Rams forwards coach Peter Claridge said: "Some [Harlow players] were out of their depth and [Braintree] were a much better team.

"We had players out who would have made a difference [to the margin of defeat] and we will have Rob Mackie and Mark Barr [flanker] back for this Saturday [away to Romford & Gidea Park]."

He would not throw in the towel on relegation, but said: "We still have pride to play for."

Looking to the future, Claridge said the training culture at Harlow has to change.

"Next season we to get people back training. The second team plays but does not train."

HARLOW: Bates, Grimley, Alderman, L. Bowering (Woodington 53), Webb, Dobson, Powell, Lane, Romaine, Branch (Cunningham 65), Palmer, Blackwell (Drake 70), M. Bowering, Roberts, Eynon.

Niamh's on strike for ten pin trophy

NIAMH Simpson took pride of place as she won the U-10 category at the South of England Ten Pin Bowling Championships.

The nine-year-old Harlow bowler scored 116 at the event in Dunstable, Beds, beating her previous highest game ever.

Niamh, of Barn Mead, who was aided by a new ball, went on to bowl a three-game series which also beat her previous highest score.

In the intermediate age category, Harlow duo Bootsie Green and James Long came third out of 45 pairs.

Bootsie, of Halling Hill,

bowled his highest ever three game series of 502, while James, of Prior Court, had a 431 series.

These players have been playing at Chelmsford, but have been boosted by the news that the ten pin bowling centre in Cross Street, Harlow, is to reopen soon. This had closed last year.

Cheshunt win gala day at Tye Green IBC

MORE than 30 bowling clubs were represented when Tye Green Indoor Bowling Club hosted a successful Ladies Gala Day.

The event was won by Cheshunt Ladies who walked away with the trophy and crystal glasses from sponsors Daniel Robinson & Sons and Golden Charter.

One hundred and fifty women played with competitors coming from the likes of Bishop's Stortford Bowls Club, Harlow Bowls Club, Sawbridgeworth and Griffin Bowls Club, which is based at the Latton Bush Centre in Harlow.

Daniel Robinson manager Derek Oakley said: "It's been a wonderful day and it is heart-warming to see such a grand total raised in the current climate.

"We congratulate Cheshunt Ladies and everyone involved at Tye Green." A sum of £1,800 was raised for MacMillan Cancer Support and St Clare Hospice.

Late goal secures cup final place

AN 88th-minute Dean McAteer penalty clinched a place in the Essex Junior Cup final for Alemite Athletic.

Alemite were drawing 1-1 at Kelvedon Hatch reserves in Saturday's semi-final before Andrew Newman was fouled and McAteer converted the spot-kick to seal a 2-1 win.

Earlier, Nathan Blake fired in to put Alemite ahead on 55 minutes before Kelvedon equalised with a shot on 70 minutes.

Saturday's triumph means Alemite will take on Braintree & Bocking United in the final at Billericay Town FC on Wednesday April 20.

Alemite manager Peter Lucia said: "We played well and deserved to win. I am confident about the final."

In the Footprint Bishop's Stortford, Stansted & District League, Alemite Athletic reserves beat Albury 5-1 in the semi-final of the Division One Cup.

Other results:- prem div: Hatfield Heath 0, Old Street 18; Heath Rovers 3, Birchchanger 1; Sheering 2 (Scott Bunn 2), Avondale Rgrs 2. Div one: Frontiers 3 (Simon Gough, James Phillips, Mitchel Judge), Hatfield Heath res 0; North Weald res 3 (Dean Connolly 3), Sheering res 2. Div two: Avondale Rangers res 4, Langley Rangers 6 (Alex Lawrenson 2, Bradley Wilson, James Cutler, Martin Linsall, Chris Luckin); Dunmow Rhodes 6, Lower Street 1; Thaxted Rangers res 0, Potter Street 4. Bill Bruffy Cup 2nd rnd: Thorley Park 2, North Weald 3.

Town ready to deliver premier division title

HARLOW Town will be looking to build on last season and win the Herts & Essex Cricket League division one title for the first time in 2011.

The Ash Tree Field men were promoted from division two in 2009.

Having finished fourth last term, a top three spot is the minimum requirement for 2011.

Vic Goddard's men certainly have a lot of young talent coming through.

Shiraz Ali is an example. The gifted young batsman was the batting award for 689 runs and is sure to break bowlers' hearts for many years to come.

Harlow Town's second and third teams showed the Elizabeth Way club's strength in depth as they respectively won promotion from division three and six. They were both runner-up in their respective divisions.

Harlow Town's Karl Secharan, a gifted yet unfulfilled cricketer, is capable of pulling off the occasional batting feat.

CHAMPIONS? Bastman Scott Alderson in action for Harlow Town against division one champions Farnham last season (HSP0657049) and, inset, Scott with Shiraz Ali (OBS0656670)

He did so when he scored 192 against Stansted Hall II to win the division six batting award, while his team-mate Shaun Alderson won the league bowling award for his 7-31 versus Thorley II.

Harlow Town will run a fourth team in the Herts & Essex League next term.

They will operate in division seven.

Canons captain's focus on youth

NEW Canons Brook Golf Club captain Colin Godfrey is urging more young people to take up the sport – and follow in the footsteps of a golden era of English golf.

As Hertfordshire's Luke Donald closes in on the World No.1 spot, while fellow Englishmen Paul Casey, Lee Westwood and Justin Rose continue to dominate the sport, Godfrey is hoping more youngsters will be encouraged and sign up at the Harlow club.

"We are trying to encourage more kids here. I want to keep that moving. We have golfers like Westwood, Donald and Rose. English golf has never been doing so well," he said. "We want to get local kids involved, all ages from 5 upwards."

Godfrey (64), who is a contact cleaner and lives in Sakins Croft in Harlow, has been a member of the Elizabeth Way club for 15 years. He plays off a handicap of 10.

He will formally take over from Alan Howick as club captain at Canons Brook's annual meeting on April 5. His drive-in takes place on Sunday April 10.

Godfrey, a Spurs fan, was delighted to take up the club captaincy. "It does mean a lot," he said.

Godfrey, who is originally from Tottenham in North London, has chosen two charities close to his heart for his year in office.

He will support Great Ormond Street Hospital as he spent much of his early childhood there as he suffered a disease of the middle ear drum.

He will also back Help For Heroes. His father served with the Paratroop Regiment in Italy in the Second World War.

Outgoing captain Howick (63), co-owner of Howick & Brooker Estate Agents in Old Harlow and the President of Harlow Cricket Club, has overseen many changes in his year as captain.

The club's changing rooms have been completely transformed, while there has been tens of thousands of pounds spent on improving the 9th, 10th and 14th holes. The former and the latter holes have been re-routed, while the 10th has seen the green completely relocated to prevent errant shots hitting nearby houses.

CAPTAINS' CLUB: Colin Godfrey, left, has replaced Alan Howick as captain at Canons Brook Golf Club (HSP0717241). Inset, Lee Westwood, whose Ryder Cup success has encouraged youngsters to take up the game

"It's been a challenging year and terrific for the club. I hope Colin enjoys it as much as I have," said Howick.

"The club has changed in the 20 years since I joined. When I joined you had a waiting list, but now you turn up when you like to play golf."

Canons Brook has more bold plans and the next stage of its redevelopment will see its 17th century barn upgraded for functions, conferences, weddings and parties.

Meanwhile, new club professional Mark Smith will be hoping there will soon be an end to the cold spell which will enable him to crack on with the launch of his new junior academy. "I think he's fed up just selling coffee in the club shop!" joked Howick.

GB judo player targets Olympics

GREAT Britain judo player Faith Pitman has the date July 31, 2012, ingrained in her memory.

That is when she hopes to represent GB in the U-63kg competition at the London 2012 Olympics.

But the 25-year-old West Essex Judo Club player admits her London dream could be ended this year unless results start to improve.

She has had a nightmare start to the year with illness and a lingering ankle injury contributing to her finishing third in the British trials at Sheffield in January.

Her place at April's European Championships in Istanbul is far from assured. Pitman, has been training at the Stebbing-based West Essex club for several years, said: "It's not going to be easy because I haven't had a great start to the year, but I believe I can prove myself on the big stage when I'm fully fit."

"I went to the British trials at the start of the year and that went disastrously if I'm honest. I struggled towards the end of last year with an ankle injury and then I was ill around that time."

She added: "Hopefully I can get myself fit and healthy and make sure of my place at the European Championships."

"I want to get my performance high, then prove myself at the Europeans to make sure of a place at the World Championships later in the year. I have to make sure I'm competing at the major tournaments."

Pitman missed out on the last Olympics. "Not going to Beijing was disappointing. There is no point in reflecting on past disappointments. I only want to look to the future."

"There are rivals like Sarah Clark and then Kate Walker, who has just come up from the junior level, and there is just one Olympic spot so the competition is tough."

HONOUR: Footballer Gavin Brooke in his England kit (HSP0717876)

Brave footballer in England call-up

A FOOTBALLER from Harlow has been given a big boost after being selected for the England Cerebral Palsy side for the first time.

Gavin Brooke is part of a 12-man squad that will be playing three friendly internationals next week in Dublin.

England will be playing Ireland, Scotland and Holland.

The 21 year-old, from Hollyfield, said: "I was pleased and surprised when I heard. I have worked hard and my family has supported me."

"Lyndon Lynch [the England disability coach] has helped me a lot. Jess Davies [coach] has also helped me a lot."

The courageous youngster has battled back from two brain tumour operations. His initial tumour left him paralysed down one side so to receive an England call-up is an astonishing achievement.

Brooke, who plays for Hertfordshire Rangers in the Footprint Bishop's Stortford, Stansted & District League, hopes to play for an England Disability team in the Paralympics in 2012.

He feels he has improved as a player over the last 12 months.

He said: "I have got stronger and more mature. I feel more than capable of playing this standard."

A TOTAL of seven 180s were scored in the latest round of matches in the Harlow & District Premier Darts League.

Green heads the 180 table with six. Richie Barnard hit a 120 outshot for Colts.

White Admiral players Andy Booth, Dave Galloway and Luke Arber struck 180s in Admiral's 8-0 win over Crusader. Arber also had a 104 finish.

EKB seal penalty shoot-out cup joy

Barretts Rangers 4, EKB reserves 4

EKB won 4-2 on pens

Harlow & District Football League, Division Five Cup final

EKB Reserves keeper Dave Wilkinson was the hero as his team completed a remarkable comeback to win the Harlow & District League Cup Division Five Cup final.

At one stage EKB trailed 3-1 against Barretts Rangers, but fought back and it was 4-4 after 120 minutes, before Sunday's gripping final at Bishop's Stortford Football Club went to penalties.

SHOOT-OUT WIN: The victorious EKB side

Wilkinson saved two of four Barretts spot-kicks, while Tony Gay, Alex Jackson, Lee Garrett and Leiam Mitchell converted four of five EKB's penalties to give them the silverware.

EKB went ahead in the fourth minute when a slick four-man move was finished excellently by Gay.

On six minutes, Barretts' Danny Wetton broke and fired home to make it 1-1, but he went off 18 minutes later with a knee injury.

Shortly before the break, Barretts went ahead through a spectacular 45-yard free-kick from John Puddlefoot.

Barretts went 3-1 up on 53 minutes through a long-distance shot from James Farrow.

This stung EKB who scored through a 63rd-minute Reece Jones goal and they netted again on 79 minutes when Mark James chipped the ball over Barretts' oncoming keeper, Steve Hannam, to make it 3-3.

Mitchell then rounded Hannam to put EKB 4-3 ahead on 90 minutes, before Rob Harnett fired home with seconds remaining.

Extra-time produced no real chances before EKB held their nerve in the penalty shoot-out.

A derby to forget but a win's a win!

Waltham Abbey 0, Harlow Tn 1

Ryman, division one north

By ALASDAIR GOLD

IT was not pretty but the Hawks achieved the desired objective as they picked up a vital away win over Waltham Abbey.

There was not much to set the pulse racing in Saturday's clash at Capershots. However, Harlow Town showed the necessary focus as they avenged the 2-1 home defeat to Abbey in November.

Defender Leo Roget came back into the Hawks' line-up. It was his first game since he came on as a sub against Abbey in the reverse fixture.

He has been out with knee and back injuries, but looked solid and combined well with central defensive colleague Lee Gledhill.

Much of the game was in the air, but Harlow showed what could be achieved with the ball on the floor on eight minutes. Che Stadhart took a pass well and turned and shot against the left post.

The only goal of the game came on 19 minutes.

A Dave Cowley corner worked its way through the box to Donny Barnard. He volleyed the ball into the ground and it bounced up for Getro Kilapi to head home off the underside of the crossbar.

Abbey keeper Harry Ricketts dropped a cross on 24 minutes, but was relieved to see Steve Ferguson lob the loose ball just over the bar.

Harlow lost Stadhart to a knee injury on the half-hour mark and he was replaced by Leon Antoine.

DEFENSIVE MEASURES: Leo

Roget makes a vital tackle on Abbey's Charlie Davies (HSP0717822)

The hosts had the next chance as Tyler Campbell found Louis Bristow, but the Abbey winger nudged the ball too wide and Harlow keeper James Hasell blocked his 34th-minute effort from an acute angle.

Both sides picked up a smattering of yellow cards from the fussy man in black and the already fragmented encounter barely emerged from the middle third of the pitch.

Harlow had the ball in the net on 70 minutes, but Bertie Brayley was adjudged to be offside as he poked it home.

The Abbotts had a final chance to snatch a draw in injury-time.

Campbell flicked a ball past the defence only to see Hasell beat out his shot from a tight angle and ex-Harlow player Emmanuel Osei sent the follow-up bouncing back into the keeper's arms.

Hawks assistant boss Christian Wheeler said: "The pitch is bad there. We said to the lads before the game they would be up for it."

"Our desire, attitude and decision making was spot on."

"Our goal came from a good set-piece and their keeper had to make two good saves in the first half."

HARLOW TN: Hasell 5, Barnard 6, Opinel 6, Roget 7, Gledhill 7, Kilapi 7, FERGUSON 7, Lalite 5, Stadhart 5 (Antoine 30, 4), Brayley 5, Cowley 4. Subs not used: Wheeler, Taylor, Peagram, Dumoulin (gk). Att: 154.

Silver medal for vet Murtagh at Essex Champs

STEVE Murtagh produced a fantastic performance to secure 8th from 378 finishers at the Essex 20-mile race at Great Bromley.

This event near Colchester incorporated the Essex Championships.

Harlow Running Club member Murtagh, in his debut at the distance, clocked 1 hour, 59 minutes and 37 seconds, earning him the Essex Veteran 40 silver medal and also beat the HRC Vet 45 record which had stood since 1997.

Jared Bethell was 10th in a superb distance debut of 2:00.33.

Third Harlow runner was Jamie Jephcott in 2:20.32 which improved his personal best (PB) time for the distance by more than five minutes.

John Tennant (2:32.41) won the Essex Vet 60 silver medal and missed out on the HRC Vet 60 record by just two seconds!

Colin Moody was not far behind in 2:33.02 to win the Essex Vet 60 bronze medal.

First Harlow woman was Louise Brass in a great 2:28.13. She was followed home by Vicky Steadman (2:58.37).

Dan Chapman, in his debut at the distance, finished in 2:42.19 and Graham Saville improved his PB by 15 minutes to finish in 2:55.55.

Meanwhile, at the Adidas Silverstone Half Marathon, run on the famous racing track, Matt Jones finished in 1:39.28. He was followed home by Linda Hawkins in 2:16.42.

In the wheelchair race, Richard Chiassaro, in his debut at the distance, finished an excellent 4th place in 1:07.09 to beat the HRC wheelchair record by a fantastic 32 minutes.

He was followed home by paralympian Anne Wafula Strike who was second lady in 1:20.57 which beat her old HRC Women's wheelchair record by over four minutes.

Dean Harvey (1:25.54) improved his PB by 14 minutes.

Strikers on fire as Hawks beat play-off rivals

Romford 2, Harlow Tn 4
Ryman, division one north

LEON Antoine and Bertie Brayley both grabbed vital braces as the Hawks gained a vital win against fellow play-off contenders Romford.

The win at Aveley FC (where Romford groundshare) moved Harlow Town above Romford into 8th spot and three points off the play-offs.

Brayley's goals were his first for the Hawks since he joined last month.

At one stage Harlow led 4-0 in Tuesday's clash before conceding two late goals.

Hawks assistant manager Christian Wheeler said: "We would have taken 4-2 before the start against a team higher than us, but we have standards. We were excellent for the first 80 minutes."

He added: "Leon did very well. He has worked really hard in the last couple of games and Bertie has scored goals at whatever level he has played. It was only a matter of time."

Harlow exerted heavy pressure before going ahead on 21 minutes. Antoine got through a crowd of players to head home a David Cowley corner from inside the six-yard box. Steve Ferguson caused the home defence trouble with his runs down the right and he was the provider of Harlow's second goal on 44 minutes.

His cross fell to Antoine who poked home underneath Romford keeper Adam Rafis.

Brayley made it 3-0 on 58 minutes when he fired in after Antoine had flicked the ball on. Three minutes later, Brayley teased the home defence before he was fouled and drilled the resultant penalty into the bottom left corner for a 4-0 lead.

Petril Elbi fired in a consolation on 86 minutes and then smashed in a penalty in injury-time after Leo Roget was adjudged to have fouled him.

Wheeler added: "The penalty was a joke. Leo leant on him and if the ref blew up for every time that happened you would not have a game of football."

HARLOW TN: Hasell, Barnard, Opinel, Roget, Gledhill, Kilapi, Ferguson, Lalite, Brayley (Peagram 80), Antoine (Roache 78), Cowley (Taylor 76). Subs not used: Purdue (gk), Wheeler.

Osagie vow: 'I'll be back'

GB ace just misses out on bronze medal

ANDREW Osagie was left frustrated after he felt he let a medal slip through his grasp at the European Indoor Athletics Championships in Paris.

The 23 year-old, from Harlow, finished an agonising fourth place in the 800m final.

His time of 1:48.50 minutes was just 0.45 seconds shy of Spain's Kevin Lopez who claimed bronze.

And after tasting bitter disappointment in his first final wearing the Great Britain colours, Osagie was desperately disappointed in the immediate aftermath of Sunday's race – and took his frustration out by punching a nearby advertising hoarding!

"I guess when I look back I will be quite happy to make the first final in a GB vest but right now I am disappointed with the finish," said Osagie, from Northbrooks.

"There was a medal for me in that race and right now it feels like a missed opportunity."

The Harlow Athletic Club favourite explained: "I have been talking about missed opportunities for the last couple of months and that is exactly what has happened again."

"There were a couple of great guys in the race so I shouldn't be too disheartened – but I just don't like losing."

It was a Polish one-two in the French capital with Adam Kszczot taking home gold in 1:47.87 and European Champion Marcin Lewandowski settling for silver.

And it is from this brush with the best the continent has to offer, that Osagie derives confidence.

"The first couple of laps I wanted to be on the shoulder of the leader, but I couldn't quite get there. I didn't panic and I was pleased with the position I had," he said.

"I thought I made a good move at the right time but it just wasn't to be and like I said the other guys in the race are very good and I couldn't quite get there."

The race was televised by the BBC and Osagie, a former pupil at Sawbridgeworth's Leventhorpe School, was interviewed live after the race.

He added: "I need to take the positives from it though and I am competing with the best in Europe and the world, this is just the start of big things for me hopefully."

Earlier, it was a Jekyll and Hyde ride to the final as showboating nearly cost Osagie a spot in the semi-final only for him to come back in superb style, qualifying for the showpiece with the fastest time.

SO CLOSE: Andrew Osagie on his way to fourth for GB in the 800m final at the European Indoor Championships in Paris (s)

In his first race he moved into the lead with 100 metres to go, winning in 1:49.02 from eventual gold medallist Kszczot who clocked 1:49.53.

Brown source of concern

DANNY Brown faces a race against time to be fit for Harlow Town's home clash with Thamesmead Town this Saturday.

Brown has been suffering from a thigh injury and the versatile midfielder has been a key presence in Harlow's Ryman League division one campaign this term.

He can play the key simple ball and has that all-important vision rare in players at this level.

Hawks assistant boss Christian Wheeler said: "He has spent time with the physios but has not trained. He has a chance."

Wheeler expects striker Lee Roache to be involved. He came on as a sub in the 4-2 victory at Romford two days ago.

He sustained an ankle injury in the 1-1 home draw against Redbridge 16 days ago.

However, central defender Laurie Stewart (ankle injury) and forward Che Stadhart (knee injury) are not expected to be fit, but Wheeler was positive about the central defensive partnership between Lee Gledhill and Leo Roget. "Laurie has damaged ligaments in his ankle and it might be another week for him and Che is doubtful," said Harlow's assistant boss.

"Leo and Lee are good together. Lee can read the game well and Leo has physical presence."

Teenage reserve keeper Jayden Purdue, was on the bench for the Romford game and Wheeler said he is a good young prospect.

Looking ahead to the games against mid-table Thamesmead and Ware (away on Tuesday), Wheeler said: "We want to keep our run going. We had bad results against sides like Tilbury [a 2-0 defeat] and Redbridge and will be approaching it as if we were playing Romford."

"Thamesmead can play football and will give us a game. Tony Faulkner has done a good job at Ware with a young side."
